

I just want to say a couple of words about the tarot class I have coming up. This is the deal. People want to know like, should I take tarot? It seems complicated. Well, it's not that tarot is complicated. It's just that there are a lot of cards, right? There's 78 cards, and each card has multiple stories, and they get activated in front of your very eyes and you get inspired. And once you know the cards intellectually, then you get to read intuitively. And so, when you have some intuitive gifts, when you have, I get a feeling about this, or My Spidey senses tingling about this. and you take tarot, what it does is it puts those small whispers in the back of your mind and it puts it right in front of your eyes so that you can dive deeper into it and find out more information and get more clear.

And it turns up the volume of your intuitive whispers. It's an amazing tool that just gets stronger and keeps giving and giving and giving. So that's what I'd say. Number one, if you have intuitive gifts and you already and wanting to take them to the next level, read to row, learn how to read, it's going to be amazing. And two, if you are attracted to tarot in any way, shape, or form, chances are really good that you've probably had an experience of tarot, perhaps reading, perhaps receiving readings, something, designing a tarot deck. I don't know. But you've probably had a previous life where you were working with tarot or had access to tarot because it really speaks the soul's language. People sometimes wonder, why do we have pictures on the tarot card? Why can't they just say the words and then everyone would be able to understand what the card means?

Because tarot is so refined. It literally is the soul's language, and it's nuanced, and it's subtle, and it's powerful and it's undeniable. And these are just the two foundational reasons why you would consider taking this class to say nothing of how it provides guidance and comfort, and support and information about how to navigate the 3D world. It also is just an acknowledgement and a confirmation of what you feel so deeply inside. So, if you're interested, just click on the link and read more about the class or send me an email if you have questions. I hope you'll consider joining me for tarot.

Love and Light,
